

MILK FARMERS AT ODDS OVER JUMP IN THE RETAIL PRICE

Contend Distributor Must Bear Any Boost Given
Producer

FAVOR CUT TO 9 CENTS

Strike Survey To Be Made
And Final Vote On August 21st

HILLTOWN, Aug. 12.—The executive committee of the Committee for Action of the Philadelphia Milk Shed Conference was in session here yesterday and opposition to the proposed increase in the price of milk under present conditions and the possibility of a State-wide milk strike loomed as the session got under way here in Bucks County.

It was decided to take a strike vote on August 21 after a report is submitted to the regional committee of the dairymen. Other dairymen throughout the state are to be questioned and asked if they fall in line with a general strike.

It was announced by the executive committee that any increase to the producer must come out of the distributor's spread. The retail price of milk they maintain should be lowered to nine cents a quart, instead of increased to the present price of 11 cents from 10 cents.

Of the suggested price of 9 cents to the consumer, the representatives of the dairymen said the producers should get 5 cents a quart at the farm for milk of 3.5 percent butter-fat content, and the distributor the balance, with the prices of other grades fixed proportionately.

Lewis C. Bentley, of Perkasio, Bucks County, who presided at the meeting held in a converted barn near Line Lexington, expressed regret at premature suggestions of a milk strike.

"The Executive Committee," he explained, "has no authority to take any strike action. Such authority was delegated to the full Committee for Action. This committee of 58 members will meet here at 1 p. m. on Monday, August 21.

"At that time the United Farmers' Protective Association, with locals in six Pennsylvania counties and in Salem, Somerset, Mercer and Hunterdon counties, New Jersey, will submit the results of a survey of strike sentiment.

"We have sent questionnaires to more than 2000 farmers, of whom half are paid-up members of our association in Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Berks, Lehigh and Delaware counties.

"The sentiment of the farmers has been tested at several meetings and found favorable to a strike, but they will not be pushed into it. When a strike comes you can be sure it will be because the farmers want it and not because it was forced upon them."

The Regional Committee for Action was organized last May 11 at a meeting here of representatives of dairy farmers from all sections of the Philadelphia Milk Shed. The shed includes Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware, parts of New Jersey and the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

The committee is composed largely of members of the United Farmers' Protective Association, strongest in Bucks and Montgomery counties, and members of the Farmers' Protective Association, whose strength is concentrated in Chester, Lancaster, York, Delaware, Cumberland and Franklin counties.

The large Bucks County milk producers were conspicuous by their absence.

Newtown Jeweler Purchases Business of Welling Est.

The jewelry business of the late Lewis C. Welling, located at 312 Mill street, has been purchased by C. Harry Bunting, Newtown jeweler, who plans to operate the local store in conjunction with his Newtown establishment. "Jack" Lynn, who has been managing the Welling store since the sudden death of Mr. Welling a few months ago, and who learned his trade as watchmaker under the deceased's tutelage, will continue as manager at the Mill street store.

The new owner of the Bristol business is a nephew and name-sake of C. H. Bunting, of Wood street.

Several years ago the Newtown jeweler was in the employ of Mr. Welling when the late Bristolian conducted a store in the mid-county borough. Mr. Bunting later purchased the Newtown business, and the former owner engaged in business in New Jersey. Later he returned here and opened the Mill street store which he operated until the time of his death.

Mr. Bunting has had many years of experience in the business. He is a veteran of the World War, having seen active service in France, and is active in American Legion ranks. He has many friends here as well as in Newtown.

Falling while at play yesterday William Mack, West Circle, gained lacerations of the knee. Three stitches were required, being taken at Harriman Hospital.

CUBAN GENERAL SLATED AS PROVISIONAL PRES'T.

General Herrera Thrust Into
Military Dictatorship
Overnight

PREDICT END OF STRIKE

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 12.—General Alberto Herrera, thrust into an overnight military dictatorship by a bloodless army revolution, today was slated to become Provisional President upon the forced retirement of Gerardo Machado.

Selection of Herrera as Provisional President depends entirely upon the approval of U. S. Ambassador Sumner Welles. Herrera himself made this clear in an exclusive interview with I. N. S.

Labor leaders predicted the general strike would be terminated and normal business restored in the Island as soon as a successor to Machado was chosen.

Machado, driven from power by his army, was held a virtual prisoner overnight at his farm home adjoining the city. He was under instructions to return to the presidential palace and ask Congress for an indefinite leave of absence during the remainder of the presidential term. Failure to do so undoubtedly would cost him his life.

A conference between General Herrera and Ambassador Welles will fix the identity of the new President.

GANG LEADER AND TWO OF HIS AIDES KILLED IN 'BATTLE'

Ferris Antone, Bootleg Czar, Assassinated By Assistants

A FURIOUS GUN BATTLE

Sam Scola, and Gus Fasoni,
Shot by Sheriff After Murder

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—(INS)—Ferris Antone, notorious gang leader and bootleg czar, was assassinated early today and two of his killers in turn were shot dead by Sheriff Tom B. Bash before they could flee from the murder scene.

Single-handed Sheriff Bash engaged in a furious gun battle with three of the assassins when, attracted by the coughing of sub-machine guns, he raced to the scene in an automobile.

When the smoke of battle cleared Sam Scola, alias Sam Hogg, and Gus Fasoni, known to be rivals of Antone, lay dead at the curb beside the body of their victim. Scola and Fasoni were said to be renegade members of the former Al Capone gang in Chicago.

Charles Gargotta was captured near the scene and was hurried to police headquarters for questioning.

The killings occurred on Armour Boulevard, a quiet residential section of Kansas City.

Antone had just driven up to the curb in front of the home occupied by his wife and mother-in-law when the assassins' automobile wheeled up alongside, as Antone alighted, the gunmen opened fire.

Antone whipped out a pistol and exchanged a volley of shots with the attackers before he fell mortally wounded.

The shooting was heard by Sheriff Bash and he hurried to the murder scene. Before the trio of killers could escape the officer opened fire.

Pasoni and Scola returned the fire, but the officer's bullets silenced them. The third man, believed to have been Gargotta, raced away on foot.

Lykens Man Has Most Unique 'Wall-Paper' Edition

LYKENS, Aug. 12.—(INS)—Allen W. Barrett, Lykens, possesses the last "wallpaper edition" of the Daily Citizen, published at Vicksburg, Miss., about the time the city was taken by General U. S. Grant during the Civil War.

He received it from the family of H. W. Fox, late of Lykens, who served in the 56th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers.

The newspaper was printed on a sheet of wallpaper, about eight inches wide and fourteen inches long. The edition, containing four columns of news relating chiefly to the war, was devoid of advertising.

In a brief article, the paper challenged General Grant to accomplish his threat to eat his Independence Day dinner at Vicksburg.

"The way to eat a rabbit is to catch it," it caustically pointed out.

The publishing date at the head of the first column, under the name, was July 2, 1862. Apparently the publication was held up for two or three days pending developments of the impending occupation of Vicksburg.

At the end of the last column, a short article appeared in small type, advising that the General had "caught the rabbit" and had made good his promise to eat his dinner in the city on July 4.

The article closed with the information that that was to be the final issue of the wallpaper edition.

AIRMAN KILLED IN CRASH OF HIS AUTO

George T. Lotzgesell's Coupe
Collides With Car Driven
By Woman

DIES AT THE SCENE

KINTNERSVILLE, Aug. 12.—George T. Lotzgesell, 25, Ottsville, connected with the Pine Tree Flying Field near here, was killed yesterday noon when the coupe he was driving north on the Lackawanna Trail near here, collided with a car driven by Ruth G. Larany, 32, of 605 Eleventh street, Moorehead, Minn.

Lotzgesell was pronounced dead on the scene of the accident by Dr. F. G. Cope, of Riegelsville, and the body was removed to a funeral home in Bucksville.

Miss Larany was accompanied by her brother, Howard, and they were going south on the Lackawanna Trail. According to State Highway Patrolman Irvin Rothmel, of the Doylestown sub-station of the patrol, Miss Larany pulled her car out of a line from the rear of a truck to see if the roadway ahead was clear in order to pass.

When she started to pull around the truck, the Lotzgesell car was immediately in front of her and the two cars collided. The Lotzgesell car struck a concrete bridge and overturned several times, throwing the driver out. Death occurred a few minutes after the crash.

Miss Larany was arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. Carlisle Hobbinsack, Doylestown, yesterday afternoon and was released under bond to await the outcome of the investigation to be conducted by Dr. John J. Sweeney, of Doylestown, coroner of Bucks county, who viewed the body yesterday at the Bucksville funeral home.

THREE KILLED IN WRECK

Salisbury, Md., Aug. 12.—Three men were killed and five other persons injured early today when a New York bound Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train tore through a split rail and was wrecked. The dead were W. Oscar Brown, engineer, Delmar, Del., and two unidentified men, one a Negro. Railroad officials said they believed the latter two had been "riding the rod." The injured were E. R. Massey, Delmar, fireman, in a critical condition; Thomas Donoho, Wilmington; Samuel Wilson, Delmar; H. C. Hitchens, Wyoming, Del.; and William F. Simons, Salisbury.

The train was enroute from Cape Charles, Virginia, to New York at the time of the wreck which occurred about 2:25 this morning. It was believed, after a preliminary investigation, that the plate holding fast the two rails had broken or become loosened allowing the rails to part. The locomotive, roaring ahead at full speed on a straightaway, tore through the parted rail, scraped over the ties and turned away.

Three baggage cars, two of which were overturned, and two day coaches followed the engine off the track. Only the two sleeping cars at the rear of the train remained on the rails. Physicians and ambulances were rushed here from Salisbury.

FOUR MORRISVILLE MEN SAFE AFTER A HARROWING NIGHT

Cast Up in Boat on Small Island During Heavy
Northeaster

'GAS' TANK OVERBOARD

Coast Guard Goes To Rescue
Yesterday; Had Feared
For Lives

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 12.—Brought ashore from a small island in Little Egg Harbor Bay after spending a night in the throes of a terrific wind and rain storm, four Morrisville men are today thankful for their lives.

The quartet was marooned after drifting most of the night in a crippled boat during a lashing Northeaster.

The harrowing experience was that of: Elmer Schneider, florist; Harry French, barber; Joseph Robinson, and J. Beatty.

The men in recounting their trip to friends after their safe return yesterday morning, stated there were times when they feared their lives would be lost.

The quartet set out in a row boat equipped with an outboard motor shortly after dusk Thursday for a fishing trip in the bay. As the night wore on, a storm blew up and they eagerly started for Beach Haven.

"It was more like the middle of the ocean than the bay," French declared last night. The waves were so high that the gasoline tank of their outboard was washed into the water. The men then took turns at the oars, but the rolling bay spun them around at will. On more than one occasion it seemed as if the frail boat would be capsized.

About 2 a. m., when the storm was at its height, they were cast up on Shelter Island, seven miles northwest of Beach Haven. Interested only in escaping from the driving rain, the quartet turned the boat on its side and crowded close against it until dawn broke.

Then they discovered that three small buildings on the island offered shelter and food. One, the property of the Long Point Gunning Club, is stocked with provisions for just such emergencies.

Lee Lovett, also of Morrisville, sighted the men during the day after Robinson had fasted his shirt to an oar stuck in the sand. Not long afterward the welcome boat of the coast guards took them back to Beach Haven.

The anti-climax of their experience was that the 34 fish which they had caught before the storm broke were washed right out of their boat. French also lost a valuable raincoat.

Magazine Is Published By The New Hope Artists

NEW HOPE, Aug. 12.—For the first time since this town has grown to be a centre of art interests, an association of artists, craftsmen, writers and musicians has been formed for the publication of a magazine concerning themselves and their work. It is called "The New Hope."

Harry A. Franck, who has roamed the world and written of it most entertainingly in a dozen volumes, tells why he enjoys life in New Hope. Mrs. Ethel Davenport, who has been weaving art rugs here for the past 17 years, tells in an entertaining way of the beginnings in the craft line by herself and her husband and also of the start of the late Morgan Colt at the Gothic Shop.

Kurt Wiese, who has not only illustrated many well known books, but has recently issued one of his own, "The Parrot Dealer," has an article on illustrating. A description of the recent pantomime at the Lindencroft estate near Lumberville is set off by a charming portrait of Mrs. Helen Krams Thompson, formerly of Trenton, now of Doylestown, whose portrayal of the captive girl in "The Lost Kingdom" was regarded by the audience as particularly artistic and vivid. Moran Tudury reviews the new book, "The Rise of American Civilization," by Charles and Mary Beard.

DUTY OF THE STATES

Much of the present agitation for greater Federal efforts in combating crime overlooks the important fact that the Federal government's powers in this connection are limited. Except where Federal laws are violated, the crime problem in the United States remains one for the states and local communities to handle.

Joseph B. Keenan, special assistant to Attorney General Cummings and director of the Federal government's anti-racketeering campaign, took occasion the other day to state that there is no intention of usurping the law enforcement functions of states and local communities.

"The Federal Government," he said, "has the privilege and duty of enforcing its own laws, so it must be realized that the design of the department of justice at this time does not include any plan to attempt generally to preserve the peace in each community included in every one of the 48 states of the union." He declared it "does not intend to usurp the authority of others, nor in any manner to relieve local authorities of their privilege and obligation of enforcing various laws of the several states."

He declared the present need is for some central body to aid local authorities in an orderly manner in meeting the crime problem. But, he warned, "The problem of devising a plan whereby the Federal Government can best perform this function is a serious one and, naturally, requires a substantial amount of study."

This observation is one with which there should be general agreement. The Federal government already has injected itself deeply into the affairs of the states at many points. For it to take upon itself local law enforcement duties would be another serious inroad.

Yet, many states are finding it impossible to curb crime of various forms. Already it has become necessary for the Federal Government to take a hand in kidnappings through the new law which gives it authority to do this where the abduction victim is taken by his captors from one state into another. Unless the states and local communities improve their methods of enforcement, the Federal Government may have to go further in this direction in behalf of national welfare.

This should be avoided if possible. It is the duty of the states to use their utmost efforts in strengthening their enforcement machinery before admitting their helplessness and calling on the Federal Government for assistance.

NAMES you should know

YOU like to know names that everybody knows — name of the man who tied lightning to a kite; name of the man who watched a teakettle and went out and made an engine. Just knowing such names gives you pleasure.

Yet there are names that thousands of people know that can give you much more pleasure in a much more personal way. Names that stand for the best things to eat, to wear, to sleep on. Names, that if connected with the salad dressing, hat, fountain pen you select—or any other desirable thing—mean it is most desirable. Names written large in ADVERSIDISEMENTS.

Advertisements tell why those are wise names for you to know. Why such names greet you in the best grocery, department and hardware stores. Why those names are in the buying vocabulary of thousands . . . are believed in by thousands . . . justify belief!

Read the advertisements. Don't ask vaguely in a store for "cold cream," "a skillet," "a vacuum cleaner." Ask for So-and-So's Cold Cream, So-and-So's Skillet, So-and-So's Vacuum Cleaner. Use the names, you have learned through advertisements, that stand for the product that means most to you and most to everybody.

It pays to read all advertisements in this paper

FALL SKIRTS TO BE LONGER THAN THE '32 MODELS, PARIS HINTS

By Alice Langeller

(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS—(INS)—Formality will be foremost for fall evenings if one can make an early forecast from the first few hints coming from the French dressmakers.

Skirts are much longer than last season, the ankle-length variety meaning only dinner chic. Really formal night wear calls for gowns trailing in back with the instep the very highest level in front.

Augustabernard even puts a trailing back panel to her newest formal evening gown, cut in tubular silhouette, with a pleated flounce to give low fullness. It is made of dark smoky crepe marocain and the elbow sleeves are split to show the outer arms.

A trailing overskirt of black faille panels also adds formality to Lelong's fall formal version. A huge flower made of pale pink and white feathers gives the only touch of color.

Formality is foremost on an evening coat of black lacquered satin with back interest in a full panel inserted just below the hips. There are huge puff sleeves in silver fox.

Dark purple velvet features formality on a full seven-eighths coat with draped collar edged with silver fox and the lower sleeves are made of two fox bands.

More formality comes by way of very modest backs on nearly all the newest evening gowns, décolletés having decided to reach very high again.

PAY UP—CHEER UP!

OUR SMALL LOAN SERVICE WILL HELP YOU DO BOTH

Often when persons begin to feel a little "blue" over their financial affairs, they take courage and "come through" if they can get temporary assistance.

The business man may secure a loan from a bank to pay his debtors and "ride him over" until he is able to "get on his feet again." This loan helps him greatly and he is soon in a position to repay the bank.

Likewise a small loan to householders is the means of helping them meet an emergency, calling for money to pay bills, rent, taxes, and interest on their home, building and loan dues, for sickness, and other needs.

YOU CAN BORROW FROM $10 TO $300

DICE VS. RELIGION

DENVER—(INS)—Boos and yells directed at a minister who came to the jail to conduct Sunday services recently landed 22 prisoners in the Denver county jail in solitary confinement and 27 others on a "bread and water" diet. Jail attaches declared the prisoners were impatient to resume their card and dice games which had been interrupted by the religious service.

DOLLAR FOR KIOSK

CONCORD, N. H.—(INS)—Who

The ornamental iron kiosk which stood in front of the State House here for twenty years, and was used by the weather bureau to post weather forecasts, was removed recently as an economy measure. John Pearson, director of the New Hampshire Foundation, offered one dollar for the massive structure which weighs 2,600 pounds.

SPORTS

CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE STAGED HERE TOMORROW

St. Ann's field tomorrow will be the playing grounds of the first game of the Bristol championship series between the Hibernians, the first half champions, and the St. Ann's A. A. winners of the second half. Previous to last night the league officials had decided to play the first game on Sullivan's field but later the fray was shifted to St. Ann's field.

The Hibernians won the first half by defeating the St. Ann's team in a play-off after a deadlock had taken place. St. Ann's captured the second half after playing a tie-off with the Edgely A. C. Edgely protested the game but the protest was disallowed by President Dave Landreth last night.

The Hibs-Saints match will be a typical affair. The two teams are arch-rivals and have been all season. The Hibs defeated St. Ann's in a play-off after the Saints had the first half practically clinched. Dave Ennis did the hurling in both matches and it will be Ennis who will tee the slab in tomorrow's fray.

Ennis' opponent in the two last half frays was Whyno. Whyno got his revenge by beating the Hibs twice in the second half. And tomorrow's match will be another hurling duel between the southpaw and right-hand twirler of the Hibs and St. Ann's, respectively.

The game will begin at three o'clock, sharp.

Tomorrow afternoon on the Emille field, Emille A. A. will go after its ninth straight win when the team engages with the Germantown A. A. nine.

"Ike" Watson will do the hurling for the Emille team and at the rate Watson has been twirling it will mean another win for the Emilleites. The remainder of the line-up will be the same as last week.

Jefferson A. C. will play a double-header tomorrow, meeting the White Elephants on the Bath Road diamond in the afternoon and playing Washington A. C. in the night game on St. Ann's field. This game will begin at six o'clock.

to throw out the runner with two on base.

Outside of Whyno, the St. Ann's hitters were weak against Firce, but they were not fanning as in the previous game and were seeking the apple.

The first game of the play-off will take place on St. Ann's field tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.
